

Let's draw Arthur!

1st, 2nd grades

I like to intro Marc Brown with a picture of him and then show the students several Arthur books.

Materials:

- * Arthur's Nose
- * other misc. Arthur books (choose ones that show the difference in Arthur's looks, how he has changed over the years)
- * pencils
- * paper

Vocabulary

- * aardvark

Instruction:

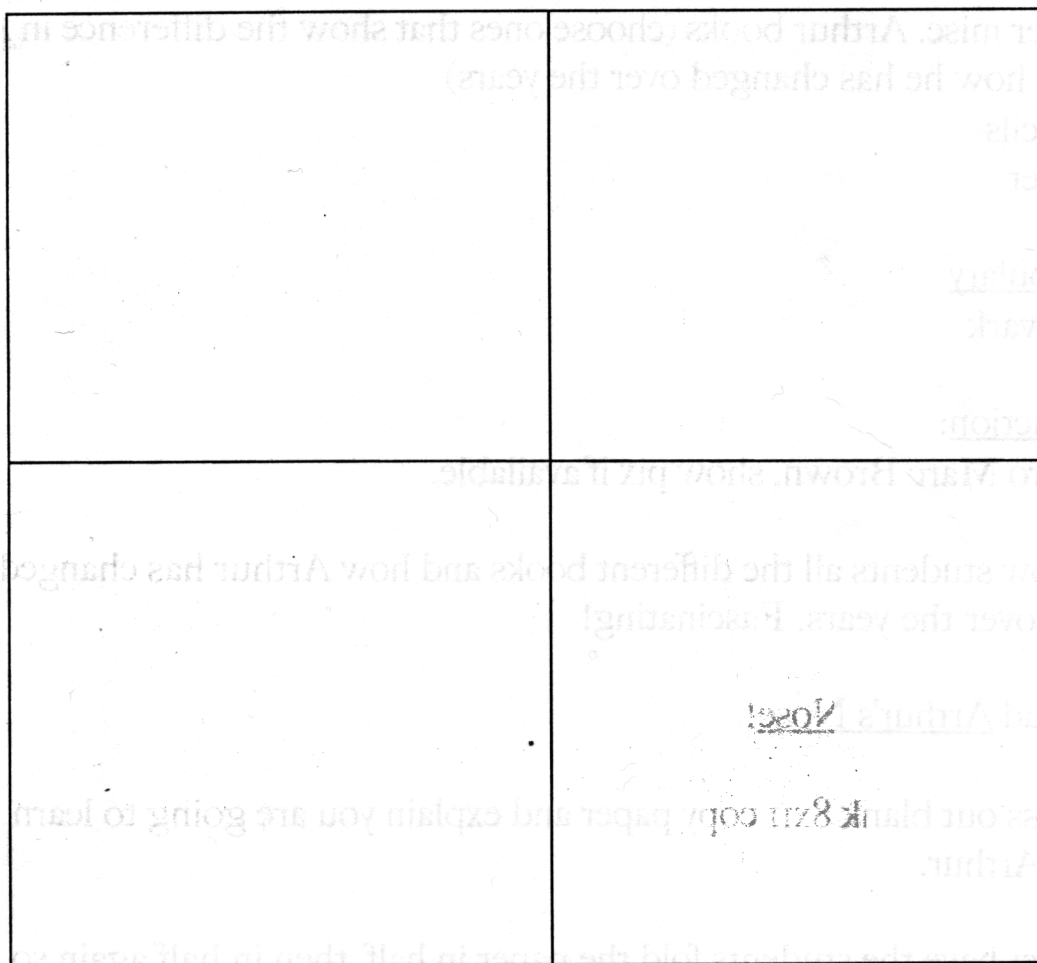

1. Intro Marc Brown, show pix if available.
2. Show students all the different books and how Arthur has changed in looks over the years. Fascinating!
3. Read Arthur's Nose!
4. Pass out blank 8x11 copy paper and explain you are going to learn how to draw Arthur.
5. I first have the students fold the paper in half, then in half again so they have invisible lines giving them 4 boxes in which to draw Arthur on each side of the paper.
6. I draw 8 boxes on the board and then begin drawing Arthur, one box at a time

The kids repeat each drawing their boxes until seven boxes are full
Let them draw another complete Arthur' face on the last one

Kids love this lesson and it's fun see who the artists really are
